

RDC-COMBINE ANNUAL TRAINING CAMP

Date: 08.10.2024 To 16.10.2024

Location: Eluru

Name Of Activity:RDC-CATC-1

Strength Participated: 04 Cadets

Brief Description of Activity:

The Combined Annual Training Camp – I (CATC-I) is a foundational training program organized by the NCC to enhance cadets' physical endurance, discipline, leadership qualities, and team spirit. As one of the initial camps in the NCC training calendar, it introduces cadets to essential military training, including drills, adventure activities, social service, and personality development sessions. The camp serves as a stepping stone for cadets to prepare for more advanced training and participation in national-level camps.

Outcome/Effect of Activity:

- Strengthened physical fitness, stamina, and endurance among cadets through rigorous training routines.
- Improved leadership and coordination skills developed through group activities and team tasks.

- Enhanced understanding of community service and civic responsibility through outreach programs.
- Fostered discipline, time management, and resilience—core values of NCC training.
- Built a strong foundation for cadets to qualify and perform well in subsequent higher-level camps and selection processes.
